

INTERNATIONAL POLAR HERITAGE COMMITTEE

MEMBERSHIP

This membership list as been compiled according to revised statutes that have been amended to comply with the new Eger principles (Xi'an 2005). These amendments have been reviewed and approved at IPHC meetings in Munich (2006) and Barrow (2007) but must be formally adopted at the meeting of the IPHC to be held at the time of the ICOMOS General Assembly in Quebec, Canada - October 2008. The final status of memberships must also be approved at that time.

EXPERT MEMBERS:

An Expert member of the IPHC is a person with an active professional involvement and/or relevant practical experience in the protection and conservation of heritage sites in Arctic and/or Antarctic regions, who is interested in the work of the IPHC and be able to assist the IPHC to achieve any of its objectives.

President

Susan Barr (representing Norway) Founding member

British, living permanently in Norway since 1973. PhD in Ethnology.

Polar historian and cultural heritage advisor. Cultural heritage officer for Svalbard and Jan Mayen (Norwegian Arctic) 1979-82, historian at the Norwegian Polar Institute 1982-98, special advisor on polar matters at the Directorate for Cultural Heritage 1998- . Field work in large areas of the Arctic almost annually since 1979 and two field seasons in the Antarctic. Member of the Norwegian National Committee of ICOMOS since 1989. susan.barr@ra.no

Secretary General

Paul Chaplin (representing New Zealand) Founding member

Extensive practical experience of Antarctic Heritage sites and management. Operations Manager of New Zealand Antarctic Programme at Scott Base 1992/93. Executive Officer of Antarctic Heritage Trust, Christchurch, New Zealand 1993 – 1999. Co-author of management plans for historic sites in the Ross Sea Region. NZ government representative observing Antarctic Treaty compliance issues and acting as guide and lecturer on Antarctic tour ships. Now residing in Norway and working as polar and trade consultant. pchaplin@online.no

The President and Secretary General act as the Executive of the IPHC in order to advance and implement the policies and decisions of the committee.

Geoff Ashley (Australia) August 2001

Assoc. Director Godden Mackay Logan - Heritage Specialists. B. Applied Science in Environmental Design. B. Architecture. Co-author of Mawson's Huts Conservation Management Plan. Contributed to other Australian cultural heritage conservation management plans and studies. Many heritage conservation and interpretation publications. Field experience at many Australian cultural heritage sites. GeoffA@gml.com.au

Julian Bickersteth (Australia) June 2005

Managing Director International Conservation Services, Sydney. MA (Ox), Dip. Conservation, Fellow Int. Institute for Conservation of Historic & Artistic works (FIIC), FRSA, Aust. Institute for Conservation of Cultural Material (AAICCM). Extensive experience in conservation of various materials and actively involved in the national infrastructure of conservation in Australia. His company ICS is a multi-disciplinary company. Involvement in technical aspects of materials conservation and policies for the AHT in the Ross Sea area and Mawson's hut at Commonwealth Bay. J.Bickersteth@icssydney.com

Peter Boyarski (Russia) Founding member

Deputy Director, Russian Cultural and Natural Heritage Institute, Moscow.

Born in 1943. Dr. Physics & Maths, Prof. Historical Sciences.

President of the Polar Investigations Fund, Head of the Russian Integrated Marine Arctic Expedition, Merited Polar Researcher of Russia, Member of the Commission on Northern Peoples under the Federal Assembly of the Russian Federation. Heritage@mtu-net.ru

Javier Garcia Cano (Argentina) December 2002

Architect. Prof. of History, Uni. of Buenos Aires, Argentina. Specialist on Preservation of Underwater Cultural Heritage and Underwater Archaeology. Main Researcher - Instituto de Arte Americano e investigaciones Estéticas "Mario J. Buscchiazzo", Uni. of Buenos Aires. ICOMOS Member since 1988. Voting member of ICOMOS International Committee of Underwater Cultural Heritage (ICUCH). Vicepresident for Buenos Aires region at Argentine Committee of ICOMOS. Advisor - National Commission of Museums, Monuments and Historical Places of Argentina. Vicepres. - Fundacion Albenga, dedicated to preservation of Underwater cultural heritage. jgcano@fibertel.com.ar

Louwrens Hacquebord (Netherlands) May 2001

Professor, director of Arctisch Centrum, University of Groningen. Doctorate on an archaeological and archival study of Dutch 17th century whaling in Svalbard. Field studies in the Arctic and Antarctic. Member of the board of IASC (International Arctic Science Committee). L.Hacquebord@let.rug.nl

Håkan Jorikson (Sweden) January 2006

Director of Grenna Museum – Andréxpedition Polarcentre, Gränna. MA in History and BA in Ethnology. Former member of the board of the Swedish Polar Research Secretariat. Member of the SC-IPY. Travelled Svalbard area several times as guide on cultural historical tours and as participant on scientific expeditions. hakan.jorikson@grennamuseum.se

Jean-François le Mouél (France) Founding member

Born 1942. PhD in Cultural anthropology and archaeology. Research fellow CNRS (Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique), Laboratoire de préhistoire, Musée de l'Homme/Paris. Since 1962 archaeological and ethnological research in Greenland and Arctic Canada. Former leader MIAFAR (Mission archéologique Française de l'Arctique) Now responsible for Mission du Patrimoine historique des TAAF (Terres Australes et Antarctiques Françaises). Author of Archaeological inventory of French subantarctic islands. miafar@club-internet.fr

Bryan Lintott (New Zealand) October 2009 (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

PhD candidate, Gateway Antarctica, University of Canterbury, NZ, Scott's and Shackleton's Huts in Antarctica: Significances, Conservation and Interpretation. Currently Exhibitions Officer, Scott Polar Research Institute, University of Cambridge, England. Previous posts as: Director, Ferrymead Heritage Park and Heritage, NZ; Curator, Christchurch Arts Centre, NZ. Former Chairperson of ICOMOS New Zealand. Winston Churchill Fellow, 2001. BA in Art History, Certificate in Antarctic Studies (Dist.). bryan@bjlintott.com

Cornelia Lüdecke (Germany) May 2002

Diploma in meteorology (1980) and PhD (1994) University of Munich - history of natural sciences and the history of German polar research in the period 1900-1939 and Erich von Drygalski's influence. Habilitation in Hamburg (2002). Expert in archival material on German polar research. Founded and leads the Action Group on History of Antarctic Research within the Scientific Committee of Antarctic Research. President of the International Commission on History of Meteorology. Field experience in Svalbard (Arctic) related to German wartime meteorological bases. C.Luedecke@lrz.uni-muenchen.de

Johan Mattsson (Norway) November 2007

Has a degree in biology (mycology) from Oslo University and is a leading expert in fungal damage and protection in cultural heritage at the Mycoteam Consulting Firm, which is specialised in the field of biological degrading agents (fungus, damp and insects).

johan.mattsson@mycoteam.no

Peter Maxwell (Australia) October 2009 (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

Director, Maxim Consulting Services, Adelaide. BAppSci (Conservation of Cultural Materials), AssocDip Metallurgy; Member, Aust. Institute for Conservation of Cultural Material (AICCM). Wide-ranging experience in all aspects of metals/objects conservation throughout urban Australia, and remote areas. Contributed to technical aspects of conservation management plans for the NZ AHT in the Ross Sea area. Field work in Antarctica for the NZ AHT (3 summer seasons 1996-2000), and 2009/10 summer season at Mawson's Huts (MHF).

Angie McGowan (Australia) August 2001

Cert. British Archaeology (Oxford). BA in Archaeology & Palaeoanthropology (U.of New England). Member Australian Assn. Consulting Archaeologists inc. Member ICOMOS. Extensive experience in cultural heritage management in Australia. Polar field experience at Heard Is. Mawsons Huts, Cape Dennison, Antarctica. Extensive publications. angela.mcgowan@heritage.tas.gov.au (Wk)

Michael Morrison (UK) May 2003

Architect -Senior Partner - Purcell Miller Triton. Has worked extensively in the field of conservation of historic buildings in the UK, worked on conservation plans for the British Museum, and acted as advisor to Antarctic Heritage Trust on Management Plans for historic sites in the Ross Sea area of Antarctica. MichaelMorrison@PMT.CO.UK

Doug Olynyk (Canada) Founding member

Historic Sites Coordinator of the Heritage Branch, Tourism Yukon. Responsible for the research, planning, management and operation of historic sites in the Yukon Territories. doug.olynyk@gov.yk.ca

Michael Pearson (Australia) Founding member

PhD in Prehistoric and Historical Archaeology. Director of Heritage Management Consultants Pty Ltd. Previously Deputy Executive Director of the Australian Heritage Commission. Heritage consultant since 1993 with work including the investigation and site assessment of a number of Antarctic historic places including Mawson's Huts, Wilkes Station, Macquarie Island, and the Scott and Shackleton huts in the Ross Sea Dependency (1986-7, 1990-1, 1992)-for Australian Antarctic Division, AHC, and the New Zealand Antarctic Program. Other work includes early mining, whaling and sealing sites in Australia. Member of Australian ICOMOS since 1978 and chairman 1984-86. mike.p@ozemail.com.au

Ximena Senatore (Argentina) November 2009 (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

Researcher Member of Centro de Investigaciones Antárticas (Center for Antarctic Research), Facultad de Posgrado de la Universidad Nacional de San Martín. Prehistoric and Archaeological researcher at National Council of Scientific and Technological Research (CONICET) Argentina. Assistant Professor (Dept. Anthropology), University of Buenos Aires. Associate Professor (Cultural Heritage) Universidad Nacional de la Patagonia Austral (UASJ) in (since 2007). PhD (History). Master Auxiliary Sciences (Restoration of Historical Heritage: Archaeology and Museology) University of Valladolid, Spain. Anthropological Sciences (Archaeology) University of Buenos Aires. mxsenatore@gmail.com

Glenn Sheehan (USA) November 2001

Ph.D. 1992 Bryn Mawr College. MA. 1983 (Archaeology - U of Pennsylvania). Executive Director of Barrow Arctic Science Consortium (BASC – refer www.arcticsscience.org) Began archaeological fieldwork in 1976 and has spent over 90 months 'in the field'. Active in efforts to preserve and document US Naval Arctic Research Laboratory, a complex at Barrow Alaska with extensive outlying facilities. Experienced in excavation of frozen sites and has documented many individual sites for placement on the US Register of Historic Places. basc@arcticsscience.org

Rubén Stehberg (Chile) June 2002

PhD in Anthropology (Argentina , 1992). Archaeologist of the National Museum of Natural History (Chile). Has conducted several archaeological fieldwork research projects of the nineteenth century sealer settlements in the South Shetland Island. Interested in the protection of Antarctic heritage. Other works include: "The Incas empire expansion to central Chile", and others. Member of the ICOMOS Chile since 2003 and an IPHC Chilean representative since 2006. rstehberg@mnhn.cl and rstehberg@hotmail.com

Nigel Watson – New Zealand. (Nominated by Michael Morrison February 2005)

Executive Director Antarctic Heritage Trust (AHT). B.com., Barrister & Solicitor, Graduate Cert. Antarctic Studies (Canty.Univ. NZ). Responsible for the management and implementation of AHT policies and work programme for the preservation & protection of historic sites in the Ross Sea area of Antarctica. Co-author of management plans for the sites.
n.watson.aht@antarcticanz.govt.nz

Adam Wild (New Zealand) November 2007

An architect and director of Archifact Limited (NZ) who works extensively in the field of conservation of historic buildings in New Zealand. His use of laser scanning technology provides a non-invasive means of understanding the nature of historic places. He is the conservation architect to the Antarctic Heritage Trust and a co-author of the conservation plans for the historic huts on Ross Island, Antarctica. adam@archifact.co.nz

Andrés Zarankin (Brazil) October 2009 (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

Associate Professor of Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Federal University of Minas Gerais, Brazil. PhD in Archaeology (2001). Since 1996 (with Maria Ximena Senatore) has directed a Project of Historical Archaeology in Antarctica, supported by CONICET (Argentina), and recently CNPQ (Brazil). He has several publications on the subject.
zarankin@yahoo.com

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS :

An Associate member of the IPHC is a person with relevant skills and expertise who has been recommended to the Executive by an Expert member as being a person interested in the work of the IPHC and able to assist the IPHC to achieve any of its objectives.

Dag Avango (Sweden) (Feb. 2010) . (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

PhD in History of Technology (Industrial heritage research). Polar historian, working as researcher, tutor and project coordinator at the Arctic Centre, University of Groningen, Netherlands (2007-) and Division of History of Science and Technology, Royal Institute of Technology, Sweden (1998-). Leader of field research in Svalbard (annually 1999-2008), South Georgia and Antarctica (2009/2010). Board member of TICCIH (The International Committee for the Conservation of Industrial Heritage) - regional responsibility for preservation of Industrial heritage in polar areas. Member of the Exec. Committee, Swedish Committee International Polar Year (SC-IPY). Chair of Social Sciences and Humanities working group, Swedish Polar Research Secretariat. d.avango@rug.nl or avango@kth.se

Sherri-lee Evans (Australia) (Sept. 2004)

Project Officer, Environment Protection & Regulation Group, Department of Environment, Climate Change and Water (NSW). Masters in Museum Studies with Merit, University of Sydney (2009). Archaeologist. Research orientation incl. the history of cultural heritage management in the Antarctic and sub-Antarctic, Biographies of the crew of the Terra Nova; and the influence of perceptions of Antarctica on policy. Sherrielee.evans@environment.nsw.gov.au

Pavel Filin (Russia) (January 2010). (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

PhD in Ethnology. Deputy Director of Museum Icebreaker Krassin, Saint-Petersburg,. Secretary of Russian Maritime Heritage Association. Senior Researcher, Russian Research Institute for Cultural & Natural Heritage. Director of the Solovky Maritime Museum (2006-09). Field researcher in Arctic & Subarctic regions of Russia and Alaska. Social and cultural heritage impact assessment consultant. paf@front.ru

Anne M Jensen (USA) (April 2008)

Senior Scientist / General Manager – UIC Science LLC, Barrow, Alaska. Ph.D. candidate, MA Anthropology. Research orientation incl. archaeology & anthropology of Arctic Science, Inupiat and Inuit peoples in general. Many projects / publications/presentations and reports related to anthropology, archaeology and cultural heritage in the Arctic. anne.jensen@uicscience.org

Glenn Simpson (USA) December 2007.

M.A. Anthropology (Cultural Resources Management), Sonoma State University, California. Program Manager, Historic Preservation Projects, National Park Service. Archaeologist, Architect, Heritage Consultant. glenn_simpson@nps.gov

Robert Vincent (Australia) February 2010. (Subject to confirmation April 2010)

Grad Dip in Architecture and Urban Planning. Principal of Cultural Resource Management Practice. Previously undertook Heritage Management Plans for the Australian Antarctic Division on Atlas Cove Station Heard Island, Macquarie Station Macquarie Island, Wilkes Station Antarctica, and the Australian Antarctic HQ at Kingston Tasmania, Australia. The body of work provides a comparative analysis of accommodation initially used for Australian National Antarctic Research Expeditions, ANARE. rob@robertvincent.com.au